An Argument can be made for the Immortal Rainbow, since it helps you 1v1 others (except tanks) and gives you better survivability to come back, much like the Eclipse. Kraken Slayer is the best mimic in the Yi atm attack speed. If you would like to play my old Eclipse Yi try it out for fun. You can achieve different things (you have the highest base movement speed in the game) you can run them down if you are fast enough, you can flash on top of the enemy and you will get the movement speed this build provides (having someone who can speed you up is really comfortable, which is why some use ghost instead of flash). Game plan: Auto-attack the enemy Your game plan may be simple, but difficult to master. Your main source of damage is your automatic attacks, this means that you should not Q for damage since it does not overcome your automatic dps by a notifiable amount and leaves you vulnerable afterwards. Good Luck, Best Skill - Light What still remains is the Krakenslayer Variance from my old build where you buy the same exact items. If you find yourself facing a lot of explosion in the enemy team this may be your only hope and even though it will incapacitate you in the beginning/middle of the game it scales very well, but you may have to buy Berserker's Greaves to compensate for passive Krakens. When I recommended the Eclipse Yi, the Rageblade + Wit end combination was my way of abusing the Passive Eclipse, granting us more explosion, more sustain through the shield, which helped 1v1 others by making it a viable task speed option. You want to automate the enemy until they die and unlike memes this compilation does not make you spam Q and win (reminds me of AD Yi...). I am a big fan of Eclipse Yi and invented the Atk Speed Eclipse Style. Although I have donies eclipse yi a lot and still recommend you try it, since it is a lot of fun to play, this guide will now focus on Kraken Slayer, as it is higher in cases of 9/10. I am very interested in theory creating new constructions to make Yi more diversified. Never get involved with alpha strike, unless you know the spells of CC enemies are cooldown. The reason we made use of the weakening of the Guinsoo and Wit Rageblade Sound is to get the maximum atk speed possible with the smallest amount of gold and to abuse the damage of sagacious purposes attained. Even considering all this, I have to say that it is very bad. I am sorry to say that the Eclipse Yi is nothing more than an ad Yi resumption option and another Yi Speed Visible Option à €
